GREAT ORGY EXTRAVAGANCE SHOULD BE CONTROLLED

San Francisco, Cal.—The investment house of E. F. Hutton & Company, in its last regular letter to clients, says:

"The country is fast waking up to the idea that the great orgy of extravagance should be brought under control. Far-sighted economists have been preaching the doctrine for months and have given warning over and over again that reckless spending could not continue indefinitely. Sentiment, not only in banking circles but throughout the country, is gradually changing, and the people themselves are giving a little more attention to thrift and economy."

"Conservatism in purchases is not stimulated by offers of bargains. The public is evidently thinking in terms of lower prices. That is all right as far as it goes. It will have to think in terms of increased production in order to give permanency to a lower level. Buyers cannot rush in and clean up stocks and then spend their time in wishing for another decline."

The statements made by Hutton & Company in its June 1 letter argue a condition of which the Treasury Department has been warning the public for many months, according to C. A. Farnsworth, Associate Director of the Government Savings Organization for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District.

"We feel that we have been somewhat instrumental in our preaching of Thrift and saving and investment in Government securities in bringing about a return to sane conditions," Farnsworth said.

"The people who have listened to the Government's warnings and have saved and invested their earnings in War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates and who have held their Liberty Bonds will be without regrets. Those things which they were strong willed enough to put aside for the moment they will be able to buy now on a falling market, and they will have as a result of the using of their intelligence a sizable nest egg."

Recently the Government has taken pains to push the sale of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates through its regular channels, the banks and postoffices. Sales Agent cards have also been issued to a great many persons in industrial concerns and fraternal organizations.

San Francisco, Cal.—Californians saved and invested $796,119.60 in Thrift and War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates during January, February, March and April, according to reports of the Government Savings Organization for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. Trinity County led all other counties of the state, which a per capita investment of $1.29. San Francisco residents invested $201,990, while Los Angeles showed a total of $184,522. Banks and postoffices, where the securities are on sale, report a steady demand.

YUCCA

Mr. Allen Heath is a Phoenix visitor.

Mrs. Earl Heath has recently returned from a month's visit at Camp Verde, Ariz.

The Heath Cattle Co. received a consignment of 150 cows the 19th. This is the second shipment lately.

Messrs Lowe and Franklin are doing some development work on a copper claim in the vicinity of Wauba Yuma on the Rock Creek Creek side.

Cowmen are complaining of the trouble they are having with screw-worms this season. There is always "a fly in the ointment", and sometimes two, also gnats are plenty and we've heard a few (just a few) cuss words.

The various and many roundups have about finished the spring work on the range, and the gentle (?) bossy may now lie down unmolested in the shade of the Yucca tree. We hope she enjoys the respite half as much as we would, were it our privilege.

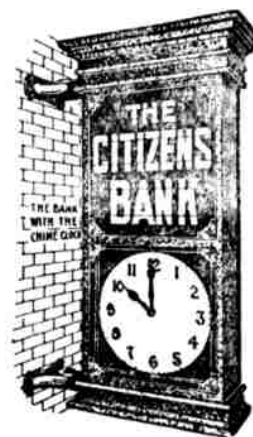

Fine weather for June. No discomfort yet from the summer's heat, but we can't say what we'll have thirty days later. So enjoy it while you may.

Yucca folks are "muchly" disappointed over Kingman's failure to go on with the celebration planned for July 4th. To many the time required to "take in" a like festival further away is an impossibility.

Master Merman Janc has almost entirely recovered from his recent setback of scarlet fever. We have not heard of any further spread of the disease, which speaks well of the sanitary precautions taken by the family.

LARGE SCHOOL FUND DISTRIBUTED IN STATE

Coming from rentals of state school and other lands $326,697 was this week distributed among the schools of the state, based on the school census, at the rate of $4.20 for every child between the age of 6 and 21 years. Under this apportionment Mohave county schools have been enriched by the sum of $4,447.80, the smallest amount to go to any county in the state, there being only 1,059 census school children in the county. The next lowest is Coconino, with 1,440 children, Maricopa heads the list with 20,869 children and draws down $87,649.80 of the state funds.

ARGO CUTS QUARTZ VEIN ON 600 LEVEL

The drift from the 600 level of the Argo has reached out close to 100 feet and cut through a big quartz vein that shows good mineralization. This is the same vein that was entered on the United American and the management of the Argo believes that with further crosscutting the big ore bearing vein will soon be entered. Owing to the breaking of some parts of the machinery the work has been slowed down, but the repairs are expected to be made within the next few days and work under way again. The management is doing all possible to bring about immediate results from this big east-end property.

"WHY CHANGE YOUR WIFE" JUNE 21-22

Manager Lang at considerable effort and a big expense has secured an early showing of the greatest and most interesting production of the season, "Why Change Your Wife", for a two day showing, June 21 and 22nd, with a matinee on afternoon of June 22nd.

While Mr. Lang has paid a price for this production, which would warrant a charge of 75c at least, he is going to let the patrons in on a bargain, and in so doing intends to help to lower costs, although he will probably not make near so much. This great production ran for eight solid weeks to overflowing business in Grauman's Rialto in Los Angeles and has received similar receptions in all the large cities. New York is planning to run it six months. These are the strongest talking points about any attraction, whenever a production enjoys exceptionally long runs you are assured of a splendid entertainment. Remember the date, June 21 & 22nd and don't miss the opportunity to see this great picture as it will be shown in Kingman only.

YUMA SHERIFF SUED

Mel. Greenleaf, for the past twenty years sheriff of Yuma county, was sued the other day by William Adolph dams for causing the plaintiff's arrest on a charge which he claims to have been malicious. Evans was charged with stealing a steer and deceiving the hide and brand. He had been bound over by a justice of the peace but was later discharged by the prior court at Yuma. He wants $10,000 from Greenleaf and his bondsman. Evans is a resident of Parker.

COPPER FOUND AT COPPER CREEK

A find of copper is reported from the Copper Creek section of Yavapai county that is thought to be one of the big things of the state. Just how large it is has not been given out, but it is classed as one of the largest things opened up since the discovery of the ore body in the United Verde Extension. Some years ago the Lewisohns had options on a large acreage in the Copper Creek country and a railroad from Seligman was planned into that country. Just what happened to the big deposit has not been given out, but these big operators did not go through with the deal, although it was reported that enormous deposits of carbonates, oxides and native copper was brought to light by the diamond drilling. Sulphides were also found in the deep drill holes. The country is hard to get into and a railroad will be necessary to develop a property in that region.

Some men don't want to "Change Your Wife".
